Laura Elizabeth Jewelry

Whitney was right. We do "believe the children are our future." But let's stop passing the buck, shall we? We are just as responsible for the future. And we can make that statement loud with Laura Elizabeth's I Am the Future pendant. The proclamation is written in English on one side and Hindi on the other and engraved on recycled silver dipped in gold. "Every woman has a story to tell — of strength, independence, and feminine expression," Elizabeth says. "I create my designs so that women can make a statement in their everyday lives." Love it! And this is just a sneak peak. The rest of the series of 16" recycled silver and gold necklaces (I AM Love, I AM Blessed, I AM One, and I AM Fabulous) comes out in Spring. We can't wait to shout it from the rooftops.
